Carol Mastrofini: Alliant National Title Insurance Company's New Chief Operating Officer

Firm lands industry leader with extensive title insurance expertise and strong legal background

LONGMONT—Alliant National Title Insurance Company, a unique title insurance underwriter that partners with Independent Agents to improve their competitive position in the marketplace, is pleased to announce that Carol Mastrofini, J.D., joined the company as Chief Operating Officer, effective April 4, 2011. As COO, Carol is charged with overseeing agency and legal requirements, and playing a vital role in forming and implementing Alliant National's vision and strategies.

As an attorney, Carol has worked in the title insurance industry since 1998. Among her many accomplishments, in 2008, she worked as a senior vice president in the industry, leading a group of 16 direct operations within 12 states and with 160 employees to a successful financial turnaround. She had complete P&L responsibility during this period, and built a legendary team that delivered extraordinary results.

"We feel extremely fortunate to have on our team this caliber of industry expert who also brings vast practical and legal expertise," says David Ginger, Alliant National President. "We took this position very seriously and spent considerable time and energy to ensure we engaged exactly the right person. We are very happy and excited that Carol Mastrofini is now a member of Alliant National's strategic and visionary force."

In addition to bringing significant, broad-ranging expertise in business development, transitional leadership, sales and marketing, project management, negotiations, and risk analysis and mitigation to her new position, she also has a B.S. from Santa Clara University and a J.D. from Golden Gate University School of Law.

"Alliant National is an exciting, rapidly growing company," says Mastrofini. "The opportunity to work with such an organization offers me an unparalleled opportunity to employ all of my background, training, expertise and knowledge. I look forward to working with this dynamic company as its plans for the future unfold."

The search for Carol Mastrofini was conducted by Denver, Colo.'s Spectrum Search Partners, an executive search firm. Spectrum was chosen to lead the search because of their extensive experience placing senior-level executive talent across the US. Kevin Hahn, Spectrum's CEO, and Tom Shahnazarian, the firm's President, led the search and were assisted by Jay Lane, VP of Recruiting.
